The United Nations General Assembly, through Resolution A/76/L.56, initiated by Sri Lanka and co-sponsored by 24 other countries and supported by Türkiye, declared the 1st of March as World Seagrass Day to emphasize the ecological significance of seagrass meadows in marine biodiversity, climate resilience, and sustainable fisheries.

On the 1st March 2025, World Seagrass Day would be celebrated for the third time at CHEC Port City, Colombo, under the theme "Grooming Youth: Blooming Seagrass," focusing on youth engagement in marine conservation and their role in achieving the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and the Paris Climate Agreement. The event will be attended by government officials, Colombo-based foreign missions, university students, and school children, and will be live-streamed globally to allow international participation, including from Sri Lanka Missions abroad, UN agencies, and seagrass conservation partners.
